Houston Pavilions Extends Food Truck Service through February

POCKet to Me added to lunchtime lineup

HOUSTON (January 15, 2013) – Houston Pavilions expands its daily food truck service through February following an overwhelming response from downtown visitors and employees. Beginning Monday, February 4, POCKet to Me will join the lineup and make its Houston-area debut. The gourmet pita pocket truck will service the Pavilions on Mondays from 11 a.m. – 3 p.m.

“Downtown patrons have enjoyed the new options for quick and affordable dining at Houston Pavilions,” said Karen Mulville, general manager of Houston Pavilions. “We’re thrilled to continue the Monday-through-Friday service and add more variety to our lineup of all-electric food trucks.”

Between 11 a.m. – 3 p.m. daily throughout February, Pavilions visitors can enjoy the following:

- Monday – POCKet to Me
- Tuesday – It’s a Wrap!
- Wednesday – Golden Grill
- Thursday – Ladybird
- Friday – Golden Grill

The trucks will be located at the corner of Main Street and Dallas Street in front of Forever XXI. The Pavilions will provide tables and chairs nearby– creating an outdoor space for mobile food aficionados to eat in comfort. The restaurants on wheels broaden Houston Pavilions’ culinary offerings, which already include upscale options like McCormick & Schmick’s, Mia Bella Trattoria, III Forks Steakhouse, Crossroads, Andalucia and Guadalajara del Centro.

Houston Pavilions is located at 1201 Fannin and spans three city blocks. To visit, hop on the free Greenlink bus and exit at Dallas and San Jacinto, take Metro Rail to Main Street Square Metro Station or enjoy a quick walk from many of the nearby landmarks. Convenient, connected parking is available in the garage located on Clay between Main and Fannin. Visitors can safely access the Pavilions via a Sky Bridge.
